Whether you're a seasoned wine enthusiast or just beginning your tasting journey, this is your invitation to sip, connect and celebrate in one of the most exciting wine regions in the country. (Courtesy: Travel Medford)

Tucked away in the sun-drenched hills of Southern Oregon, Rogue Valley Wine Country is one of the Pacific Northwest's best-kept secrets. With its unique blend of rugged landscapes, warm hospitality and a winemaking tradition that rivals more well-known regions, the Rogue Valley offers a wine experience that is authentic, approachable and utterly unforgettable.

Rogue Valley Wine Country is a dynamic and diverse region defined by its unique microclimates, passionate winemakers and a spirit of innovation. Nestled between the Cascade and Siskiyou Mountain ranges, the valley benefits from warm days, cool nights and a long growing season—ideal conditions for producing everything from bold Tempranillo and Syrah to crisp Pinot Gris and Viognier. With over 80 wineries ranging from family-owned estates to trailblazing newcomers, the Rogue Valley invites exploration, connection and discovery in every glass.

And maybe, just maybe, this is the last time it happens here.

With plans brewing to turn Zidell into a Major League ballpark, the old shipyard-turned-holy ground that helped shape this show may be nearing its final lap. So we're not just throwing a party — we're building a full-throttle, three-day monument to custom culture.
